RAILROADS.

The action of various companies, the past week, is to us very satisfactory. The Wellsville road, we learn, is lo cated to Bridgeport, on the Ohio side.

Philadelphia has subscribed $500,000 to and the citizens about $100,000 more—the The vote on the second ballot stood borough of West Newton $30,000, which makes the available stock of the Hempfield road $1,530,000. The road will be completed in the shortest possible space of time.

We hope that his death will not cause the abanamount of territory that is well adapted to its culture, and in China they have got to drugging it with poisons, so that many kinds are dangerous to use. But independent of that, our own country should supply our wants in every thing that our soil and climate will permit.

CENTRALISM .- In the early ages of our Republic, great fears were manifested, least the patronage of the Executive at Washington should overshadow the States and the people, and produce a centralization of power which would be fatal to the liberties of the people. That patronage is now probably fifty times greater than it then was, and the people seem to have shut their eyes to the danger. But, in addition to all this, there is now a proposition before Congress, to vote ten millions of dollars to the new Executive, to be used in such manner as he may doem proper, &c. &c. The scheme is no doubt to let the President have in his hands the means of getting the nation into war with some foreign power, and which they have not the means of knowing, is ment. thus evade the constitutional bar, which places the power to declare war in the Congress of the United States. With this startling proposition before them, the people seem to look on with great indifference. "As to the free trade doctrine, what harm can there be in its avowal, if the majority of a party really believes in it? Some members of the Ohio Convention were opposed to it. # DEMOCRATIC CONFESSION.

The Petersburg (Va.) Southside Democrat, relatives and friends. has a Washington correspondent who has relieved his conscience by writing as follows concerning the hordes of office-seekers that are now setting traps to catch the President

"It will serve no honest purpose to deny the fact: a man in Washington with half an eye in his head, who ponders on what he hears momentarily, will be satisfied that at least one hundred men, very few of whom are persons whose previous history would suggest themselves to Gen. Pierce in such connexion, are being upon him with all the MARSHAL, in the 27th year of his age, formperaphernalia of pulling letters, with long erly a resident of Clarrington, Monroe counlists of signers, resorted to for some years ty, leaving a wife and three children. past in getting a petty post-office or surveyor-ship of some out of the way port. "The worst feature in the case is the fact that the gangs of office-seekers, who were foiled in Bultimore in their efforts to effect a nomination that promised most surely to pay them (each gang) best, are the parties who are thus hunting down General Pierce. To such a pass has this game some that the Whigs of the Press now in this city seem to know as well as any Democrat just what offices each set of the backers of each gentleman being pressed are after. The result will be that this disreputable practice will bring the Democratic party into disrepute, unless our own presses put a stop to it by speaking out in its condemnation."
